YANN NOVAK / STROM NOIR EMMA YA / KARL BÖSMANN

YANN NOVAK (U.S.A.): minimal transcension drones

The records starts with a fabulous - silent but dense - drone piece by Californian sound & installation artist YANN NOVAK (coming from L.A.), the first in a series of compositions using the 'silence' of vinyl endgrooves, indeed a perfectly sublime start for a vinyl release dedicated to drones.

STROM NOIR (SLOVAKIA): shimmering elation drones

STROM NOIR encharms with two stunning 'elation' drones based on guitar harmonics, beautifully shimmering like light radiances - this Slovakian artist is also active with his true DIY-label Black Orchid Productions.

EMME YA (COLOMBIA): sigil dissolution drones

EMME YA is, after the EPs by REYNOLS (DR-42) and C.D. (DR-63) the third ever artist from South America on Drone Records. These 'esoteric' suction sounds are created as 'sigil dissolutions', meaning the unification of sonic sigils with our deeper minds. Mysterious, intense, haunting...

KARL BÖSMANN (GERMANY): post industrial / electronic drones

Behind this project with the odd name we find a german sculptor who attracted lots of attention with some remarkable releases of very unusual & daring drone-based collages - his track for MIND-02 named 'Die Verwandlung' is inspired by Kafkas short story of the same name and stands out as a powerful & threatening & even rhythmic tour de force undergoing dramatic changes from the beginning to the end.

= four projects that differ considerably from each other, but united through the idea of the power of the Drone.
